Why is it difficult?

Because partners have different rules of the game.

Why do they exist?

Historical necessity

What matters most

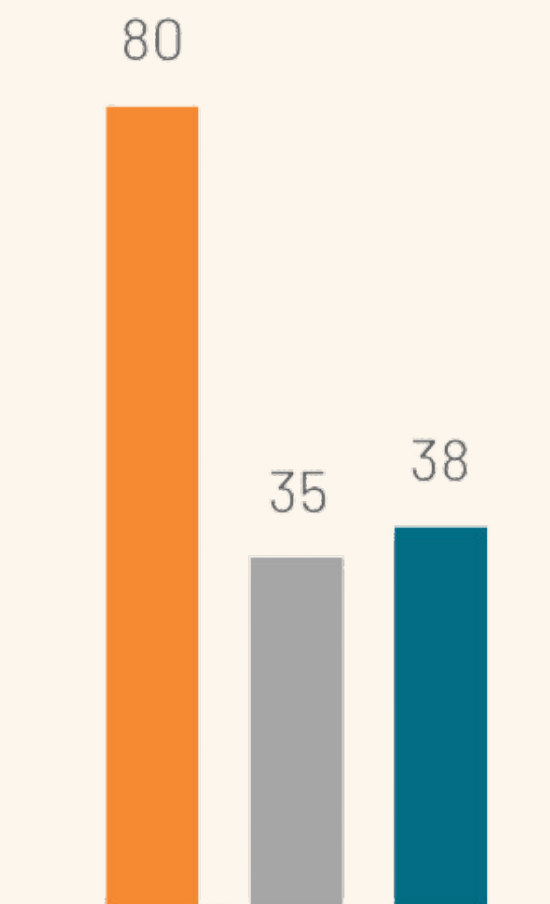

How (new) things
should be done

We can measure the differences between cultures

Individualism

Motivation towards
Achievement and Success

Power Distance

It is easier to work
within the same culture.

Is it better though?

Innovation
Creativity
Complex problems

Do not use cultural differences as an excuse!

vs.

Culture ≠ Borders

Country

Regional

Sectoral

Organizational ....

“How do we do things here”

Make your shared “rules of the game” explicit.

Coordinate, cooperate, or collaborate?

How much centralization do we need?

Who makes which decision?

How much involvement?

Coordination

Cooperation

Collaboration

The best way? No!

Interdependence

Information sharing

Selective participation

Joint production

The right form for the right job

Decentralized

- Inclusive decision-making
- Sense of belonging
- Trust, loyalty, ownership
- Faster information sharing

Centralized

- Efficient
- Consistent
- Upward accountability
- Engagement of key players

How to combine?

	Very centralized	Polycentric	Very decentralized
Coordination	One facilitator (bottom-up)	...	Take turns organizing
Cooperation
Collaboration

How to combine?

	Very centralized	Polycentric	Very decentralized
Coordination
Cooperation
Collaboration	One key decision-maker	...	Permanent representatives

Hidden costs of “flat” structures

	Very centralized	Polycentric	Very decentralized
Coordination	This is easier and takes less time
Cooperation
Collaboration		This is more difficult and time-consuming

Collaboration

Diversity

Consensus

BUT

Collaboration

Costly adjustments
within organizations

Diversity

More rules to “buffer”
different institutional logics

Consensus

More rules to protect “minorities”
and costly monitoring

~~How to avoid centralization?~~

How much centralization do we need to balance efficiency and inclusiveness?

CEO:

“We are like a family here,
not hierarchical at all”

Reporting:

standardized forms;
centralised data collection;
performance metrics;
escalation procedures etc.

Decoupling, institutionalized misconduct

or

or

What about a Lead Partner?

Prepayment
Communication

Decision-making

1

“Cultural differences” are less problematic than sectoral or organizational

2

To deal with the differences, start with explicit discussion of your “rules of the game”
